II. International Graduate Students Interdisciplinary Symposium (IGSIS)

🔻 Maltepe University, Istanbul, Türkiye

🔻 May 14-15, 2026

Maltepe University Graduate School invites graduate students from various academic disciplines to submit their full papers for the II. International Graduate Students Interdisciplinary Symposium (IGSIS), to be held on May 14-15, 2026. This symposium aims to provide an intellectual platform where graduate students can share their research, engage in critical discussions, and contribute to the advancement of interdisciplinary knowledge. To support new scholars, participation in the symposium is free of charge and is planned to be both face-to-face and online.

We welcome submissions in the following fields:

- 🔻 Educational Sciences
- 🔻 Fine Arts and Design
- 🔻 Architecture
- 🔻 Engineering and Natural Sciences
- 🔻 Health Sciences
- 🔻 Social Sciences and Humanities

🔻 In line with the aim of the symposium, the first author of the full-text papers submitted must be a master's or doctoral program student. Similarly, the presentations of accepted papers must be performed by master's or doctoral student.

🔻 Full-text papers must be original, unpublished, and relevant to the interdisciplinary scope of the symposium. The papers must be submitted via email to [igsis@maltepe.edu.tr] and written by following the template on the website. For further details about the symposium, please visit the website: https://maltepe.edu.tr/igsis

🔻 All papers will be peer-reviewed by the scientific committee. Accepted papers will be presented at the symposium and evaluated for publication in the proceedings book.

We welcome applications from graduate students in the following disciplines:

Educational Sciences:

Early Childhood Education	Psychological Counseling and Guidance
English Language Education	Special Education

Fine Arts and Design:

Artificial Intelligence and Art	Graphic Design
Cinema	Music

Film Design	Performing Arts

Architecture:

Architecture	Urban and Regional Planning
Interior Architecture

Engineering and Natural Sciences:

Civil Engineering	Mathematics
Computer Engineering	Nanotechnology and Materials Engineering
Earthquake and Structural Engineering	Physics
Electrical and Electronics Engineering	Renewable Energy Technologies
Industrial Engineering	Software Engineering

Health Sciences:

Clinical Embryology	Nursing
Health Management	Pediatric Nursing
Histology and Embryology

Social Sciences:

Business Administration	Public Law / Private Law
Communication Sciences	Psychology
Economics	Public Relations and Advertising
Human Rights	Radio, Cinema, and Television
International Trade and Logistics	Sociology
Philosophy	Visual Communication Design
Political Science and International Relations

IMPORTANT DATES
Full Paper Submission Deadline	March 27, 2026
Notice of Acceptance/Rejection	April 17, 2026
Announcement of The Symposium Program	May 8, 2026
IGSIS	May 14-15, 2026